Welcome to Summer 2018. There are changes afoot at Guild Hall, starting with new oak flooring in the Museum galleries, a beautiful refresh of the Minikes Garden, a new website, and a redesigned Summer Program Guide printed with soy ink on 100% recycled paper. Did you notice?

Guild Hall is deeply invested in self-improvement and serving our intensely creative community. This season’s programming is a tribute to our legacy as an arts town hall. With Summer of Stories, we provide an antidote to screen time and a return to storytelling and conversation; Guitar Masters brings extraordinary musicians to our intimate venue; Laurie Anderson takes us to the new frontier of virtual reality; Ellsworth Kelly in the Hamptons connects us to a global celebration of the artist’s legacy; and our educational programs offer rare multidisciplinary activities that combine theater, visual art, and creative thinking for everyone.

Laurie Anderson

Recipient of the 2011 Guild Hall Lifetime Achievement Award in the Visual Arts will be showcased in all three museum Galleries. Anderson is an avant-garde artist, composer, musician and film director whose work spans performance art, pop music, and multimedia projects. Initially trained in violin and sculpting, Anderson pursued a variety of performance art projects in New York during the 1970s, making particular use of language, technology, and visual imagery. All of these elements are still a vital part of her artistic output.

The exhibition at Guild Hall will be divided into three components that will highlight various media that Anderson works in, allowing the visitor to experience the genius of this unique artist. The three components will be: virtual reality, video performance and drawings.

ELLSWORTH KELLY in the Hamptons

Phyllis Tuchman, Guest Curator

ON VIEW August 11–October 8

Private Member Reception August 11 from 4–6pm
Reservations Required

Ellsworth Kelly's sabbaticals in the Hamptons during 1960 and 1961 and a few years later, during 1968 and 1969, were pivotal episodes in his career, which spanned more than six decades. While working on the East End during his late thirties and mid-forties, Kelly, one of America's most significant abstractionists, painted two distinct bodies of work, made large sculpture, drew plants and flowers, and photographed local farmyard barns. Surprisingly, the time he spent on the easternmost stretch of Long Island has not been investigated. A black and white photograph of seven paintings seen outdoors in a rustic setting in the Springs in 1960—and published in a French exhibition catalogue—establishes what Kelly executed that year. Varied in their dimensions, singular interior shapes, and colors that are not readily associated with his oeuvre, these works by Kelly go off in a new direction from what preceded them. The same also can be said of the art he executed at the end of the nineteen sixties. Moreover, these shaped canvases appear to have been inspired by barns that the painter photographed in Southampton in 1968. Then too, his palette became bolder and more assertive, the scale of his canvases grew larger, and his preoccupation with shaping established him as a pioneer of the times.

Designed by celebrated Stanford White of McKim Mead and White, and originally built in 1882-1883, this property has never before been on the open market in its 135-year history. As the paragon of the “Seven Sisters” built for wealthy New York City businessmen in the early 1880s, Tick Hall was one of seven summer “cottages” which today form a special gathering of private homes that together are listed on the National Historic Preservation List.

5 Tick Myths! [Debunked]

1 The only tick disease you need to worry about is Lyme disease.

One tick can carry multiple pathogens. It is entirely possible to be infected with more than one of these diseases all from the same tick bite! And, it's important to know that not all of these diseases are treated with the same antibiotic.

2 The best way to remove a tick is with Vaseline and a lit match.

The best way to remove a tick is to grab it as close to the head as possible, with very pointy tweezers, and pull up with a slow and steady motion. Even if part of the head stays embedded in the skin, that's okay, it will eventually work its way out.

3 You will develop a rash if you've been infected by a tick.

Less than half of people who've been infected with Lyme Disease show the bull's-eye rash. You could also be infected with a different tick borne disease that does not result in a rash.

4 You don't have to worry about ticks after the first hard frost.

Ticks are still active in the winter! Even if they freeze they are not dead. They become active again when the temperature is above 32°F and there is no snow to insulate them.

5 When I come in from outdoors I throw my clothes into the washing machine to kill the ticks.

Actually, put your clothes in the dryer first, on high heat for about 15 minutes. Ticks can survive in the washing machine, and in the hamper. High heat causes ticks to dry up and that's the best way to kill them.

Get the facts about ticks! So you know how to protect yourself.

Protect your family against disease-causing Ticks and Mosquitos.

Did you know that approximately 70% of people who contract Lyme disease each year are bitten by ticks in their very own yard? Or that according to scientists at Stony Brook University School of Medicine, "Tick-borne infections have reached epidemic proportions on Long Island, where children are disproportionately affected by Lyme disease and other infections transmitted by the eight-legged creatures"? Who knows how many dangerous, disease-carrying ticks are hiding in tall grass in your yard? Especially this summer, when according to experts, the tick population is again expected to explode! That's why, for more than 20 years, East End Tick and Mosquito Control has provided the most effective, environmentally-responsible tick prevention program possible. And if you're planning an outdoor party, don't let mosquitos ruin it. Protect yourself, your family and your guests with a safe and effective party spray that uses no toxic chemicals! # GOBBLEGS?

A Grasshopper jumped on the back,
Of a man from Sag-a-po-nack;
When it chirped in his ear,
He was smitten with fear,
For help he called Twin Forks Pest,
Now he's no longer distressed;
Cause they came and gave it a thwack!

With apologies to Edward Lear

Whether it crawls, flies or hops, if it bugs you, call us and we'll make it disappear! At Twin Forks Pest Control—eastern LI's family-owned pest removal experts—we use the most thorough, proven methods to eliminate insects in and around your home. Even if you don't have an immediate issue, we offer a free, no-obligation, thorough, whole-house pest inspection.* This free inspection will tell if you have any pest problems or potential problems. At the very least, it will give you peace of mind. So don't let any creepy crawlies or limericks bug you, call Twin Forks Pest Control now.

EAST HAMPTON 631-324-9020 | SOUTHAMPTON 631-287-9020 | TWINFORKSPESTCONTROL.COM
